ACADEMY & FINANCE

Dear Colleagues,

In the tradition of the world famous Davos Summit, The Financial Services Industry Geneva Summit 2004 brings financial service industry professionals from around the world to the historic city of Geneva in order to network and gain expert insight to strategies for succeeding in the financial service industry today.

The Geneva Summit represents an evolution in financial service industry professional conferencing. Yes, it includes marketing, networking and exchange of know-how opportunities. In addition, it “raises the bar” by creating a platform for the participating delegates and associations to coordinate in a manner that has not been possible here to date.

Thus, the Geneva Summit is an unprecedented initiative of nine prestigious financial service industry associations, collectively representing thousands of professionals worldwide each working within the international financial service industry. These associations agree that it is time to come together on issues that are important to the members that they represent and the international financial service sector in general.

In line with bringing “offshore into the mainstream”, lobbyists, marketing professors, lawyers, bankers and other industry experts will present topics relevant to running a sustainable financial service firm today.

In addition, delegates shall have the opportunity to discuss matters of fundamental importance to our industry with other delegates, government representatives, professors, lobbyists and industry experts. The discussion should culminate in the first Geneva Summit Financial Service Industry Statement (a short list of private sector financial service industry policy views).

The Geneva Summit is designed to positively impact the international financial services industry in general, delegates that attend, the associations involved and ultimately the clients at large that we serve.

You have the chance to be involved in the process of change and I sincerely hope that you seize the opportunity by joining your colleagues in this significant worldwide financial service industry event. See you in December.

Sincerely,

Samuel M. Lohman

Facing a unique view of the European Summit, the Mont-Blanc, you will experience the charm and beauty of an authentic mountain village that has succeeded in becoming a large winter ski resort, benefiting from an international reputation.

More information about Megève and the Lodge Park are available under www.megeve.com and www.lodgepark.com.

In order for you not to care for your transportation, a VIP bus will take you from Geneva to Megève and will drive you back. We will give you further details on the day of your registration.

The mentioned fees include the nights of 10th & 11th December at the Lodge Park, both corresponding dinners and the VIP bus. Several rooms have been booked for you at the Lodge Park, this is why we recommend you to register as early as possible since we will unfortunately not be able to have more guests than the number of rooms available.

We are looking forward to spending a both eventful and relaxing week-end with you !

Photos Lodge Park E.Lennard

Depending on the snow conditions, you will be able to slide down the challenging slopes of Megève varying from 1113 to 2350 meters and making up a total skiing area of 400 miles. For the ones among you who would rather not ski, there will be plenty of other activities including hiking, snowshoes, air and ice sports. You can also choose to relax and spend some time at the spa of the Lodge Park, the four-star hotel we have especially booked for you! This hotel, situated next to the ski-lifts and the village square, is the newest and liveliest place to stay in the resort. It succeeds in being cosy without being kitsch which is a rarity among Alpine resorts. You will appreciate its refined decoration and warm atmosphere!

DINNER AT THE FAMOUS CASTLE OF COPPET, SWITZERLAND

Have you ever heard of the Castle of Coppet, a historical place where the history of France meets Switzerland?

Rebuilt in the 17th and 18th centuries, the Castle was bought in 1784 by Jacques Necker, the Minister of Finance of the French King Louis XVI. Later in the reign of Napoleon and during the 19th century, Coppet became a shelter for liberal ideas, known as the "Salon of Europe" where Chateaubriand and Byron used to debate.

Today, the beautiful setting of the Castle of Coppet makes it an ideal place for a high-standard dinner. We hope that you will enjoy this glorious place and will be as anxious to join us as famous personalities were to be invited by Jacques Necker and his daughter the writer Madame de Staël.

A bus will wait for you on 9th December at the entrance of the conference venue to drive you to the Castle of Coppet and will take you back to Geneva.

9th & 10th December 2004, Geneva
